

Filing & Archiving Mobile Shelving System

Kara Mobile Shelving System is the modern and the most economical way of archiving system for modern offices, banks, and all other users who want to have a systematic and comfortable method of keeping their records. This dynamic type of shelving system is a suitable solution for saving of space over the regular static shelving. The system eliminates the need for multiple aisles and replaces them with additional shelving units that increase the archive capacity. Application of mobile shelving system saves up to 40% in the space available, in other words the capacity is maximized around 80% in the same space.

The system is designed for different types of papers, documents and files such as box files, horizontal and vertical hanging flat files, which can be organized through the accessories that can easily be fixed in the system. System specifications are tailored made according to end users available space.

There are three types of system: (1) manual system driven and operated by a rotating handle, (2) electrical system used electrical power for the movement of each units through a push button switch, (3) electronic system is the same with electrical and equipped with special features like light sensors, advance micro controllers and can be connected to the computer and the archive software can be used.

The system is guaranteed for five (5) years against manufacturing defects including mechanical life of the steel and two (2) years after sales services.
